

Nothin' Fancy SPBGMA's 6 Time "Entertaining Group of the Year"! (2014, 2013, 2012, 2010, 2009, and 2008)

From the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia, comes one of the most entertaining bands in the bluegrass genre, Nothin' Fancy. As a matter of fact, they've won SPBGMA's award for Entertaining Group of the Year six times!

Nothin' Fancy was formed as a bluegrass band in 1994 to compete in a bluegrass competition. Ever since then, they have grown in popularity, released 11 full length albums, and continue to perform at festivals all across the United States, Canada and Norway including the Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, TN, the Lincoln Center in New York City, and the Birchmere in Alexandria, Virginia. They have successfully hosted their own Nothin' Fancy Bluegrass Festival every year since 2001 in Buena Vista, Virginia.

Their full-time touring schedule has earned them one of the most loyal fan bases in all of bluegrass music. They are loved by festival-goers and bluegrass fans from the East to West Coast and abroad.

Nothin' Fancy recorded four independent albums before signing to a record label. In 2002 they released their debut recording for Pinecastle Records entitled "Once Upon A Road." This album earned them a showcase at the International Bluegrass Music Association (IBMA) Convention and a nomination for the IBMA Emerging Artist of the Year Award. Their second CD, "Reflections," received innumerable accolades and proved that they were one of the new powerhouses in the genre. Their 3rd project with Pinecastle, "Album #7" continues to receive rave reviews from disc jockeys and fans alike. Listening to the request of fans, Nothin' Fancy then released their first gospel CD, "Lord Bless This House." This album captures Nothin' Fancy's distinguished sound, vocal harmony, spirituality, and friendly charisma. In 2011, under their new label, Virginia Dreams Records, they released their latest CD, "Nothin' Fancy." This album holds true to their Nothin' Fancy sound while introducing a few new pieces to the Nothin' Fancy puzzle. Many bluegrass bands never reach the longevity to award itself a greatest hits album, but Nothin' Fancy has met this goal. Crediting the fans, Most Requested, Volume 1 was released in 2013. Also in 2013, Nothin' Fancy was honored to record their first Christmas album. Their love of traditional Christmas music can be heard in each song.

In 2014, 2013, 2012, 2010, 2009, and 2008, the Society for the Preservation of Bluegrass Music in America (SPBGMA) honored Nothin' Fancy with the prestigious "Entertaining Group of the Year" award. The band has also been nominated for SPBGMA's Vocal Group of the Year and each band member has been nominated for individual awards as well.

Their strong vocals, powerful instrumentation, and energetic stage presence, along with their friendly down-to-earth charm keeps people coming back for more. Nothin' Fancy is not just carrying on the tradition of bluegrass music; they are contributing to the creation of a new tradition within the acoustic music genre.

Mike Andes, born and raised in Timberville, VA, began performing publicly at age 14. Mike will tell you his music ability is God-given. He plays by ear and has never had any lessons or professional training. Several family members, including his brothers and uncles, influenced Mike with their musical abilities. In the early 1980s, Mike formed his first band, The East Coast Bluegrass Band and in 1994, was a founding member of Nothin' Fancy. Mike always wanted a full-time career in music and Nothin' Fancy has given him the opportunity to fulfill this goal. During his time with Nothin' Fancy, Mike has been nominated for Mandolin Player of the Year, Male Vocalist of the Year, Individual Entertainer of the Year and Songwriter of the Year through the Society for the Preservation of Bluegrass Music in America (SPBGMA). Mike has become well known as an exceptional MC for the band and keeps the show rolling from song to song with his wit and charm. Mike has always considered Charlie Waller to be his bluegrass hero. He learned his trade by Charlie Waller and the Country Gentlemen's example. The Seldom Scene has also been a huge influence on Mike's music. When Mike is not touring with Nothin' Fancy, he enjoys building mandolins, fiddles and woodworking in general. He also enjoys the outdoors and gardening with his wife, Becky, at their home in Pataskala, OH. Together, Mike and Becky have three sons, one daughter, a son-in-law, and three beautiful grandchildren.

Chris Sexton, multi-instrumentalist, is usually seen with a fiddle, and sometimes contributes to the vocals. He debuted with the band in 1998 at the Maury River Fiddler's Convention, where the band won first prize in the bluegrass band competition – he still has the ribbon. He appeared as a guest on the band's second and third self-released albums and joined the band in the summer of 2000. His dad, "Buster" Sexton who played banjo in several bands in the 70's and early 80's, introduced Chris to bluegrass. Although his first instrument was a mandolin, Chris soon focused his energies on the violin. Throughout middle and high school, he grew as a violinist in symphony orchestras, the All-Virginia Orchestra, and the National Symphony Orchestra Youth Apprenticeship Program, while keeping his bluegrass roots. Chris attended Shenandoah University in Winchester, VA, graduating with a Bachelor of Music in Music Performance. Soon after, he found himself fiddling with the East Coast Bluegrass Band with his father, and Nothin' Fancy shortly thereafter. He also has appeared in the Maryland Symphony Orchestra, the Roanoke Symphony, and served as the assistant principal violist with the Loudoun Symphony, and also served for five years as a co-director of the American Children of SCORE based in Warrenton, VA. His violin work could also be heard on several TV specials in the early 2000s that were featured on the Discovery Channel, the Learning Channel, PBS, and the National Geographic Channel. In 2008, Chris returned to Shenandoah University for a master's degree in violin pedagogy (the methods of teaching violin in private lesson settings) and graduated with the MM in 2010 – all while maintaining a busy touring and teaching schedule. When Chris isn't playing bluegrass, he's teaching violin, viola, cello, piano, and bluegrass fiddle in his own studio in old-town Manassas, VA. He also routinely does work for DC-area recording studios as a session musician, and he is also an adjunct professor of violin, viola, and cello at the Woodbridge Campus of the Northern Virginia Community College. In the fall of 2005, Chris released his first solo disc on Pinecastle Records, Coffee at Midnight and he released a second, all-classical solo album entitled Proof in 2013. His hobbies include cooking, composing music, and traveling.

James Cox is Nothin' Fancy's newest addition on bass. He has been winning crowds over with his confidently solid playing, which belies his youth in relation to his bandmates. Veteran banjo player Keith Arneson from the US Navy Bluegrass Band describes James' timing on the bass as being "like a clock," and his quiet stage demeanor is a sweet contrast to the irresistible to-tapping boom of the bass in his hands. Being raised in a musical family and playing bass originally with his family's band Clearwater Branch, he started playing bass as his first instrument on a Fender Junior Precision electric bass when he got it as a Christmas gift in 2007, and he never looked back! He is comfortable on both electric and acoustic bass, playing in a three-piece rock band with his brothers Nathan and John, and he gets to show off his acoustic bass skills on stage with Nothin' Fancy. He is a certified technician who tests water pumps on fire trucks, takes his coffee black, and likes a good cookie now and then.

Jacob Flick is Nothin' Fancy's banjo man. He is a student at East Tennessee State University in Johnson City, TN. He is majoring in Appalachian studies with a concentration in bluegrass and is among a new generation of bluegrass musicians who are pursuing the study of the music in institutes of higher learning. When not at ETSU, he hangs his hat in Singers Glen, VA. Jacob has been a fan of Nothin' Fancy for years and considered playing with Nothin' Fancy "a dream job" ever since. The crew of Nothin' Fancy are happy to make that dream a reality! He is an avid fisherman, collects vinyl records, spends time with friends and family, and of course spends a lot of quality time with his banjo.

Jacobe "Jake" Lauzon of Colborne, Ontario, played his first performances with the band in Witts Springs, AR and at the Opera House in Silver Dollar City in Branson, MO to rave reviews. This announcement marks the moment that Nothin' Fancy is now officially an international band! Jacobe, also known as Jake, was born in Markham, Ontario and grew up in Orono, Ontario. He began his musical journey at seven years of age, after showing a persistent interest in playing his father's guitars. Years later, Jake emerged as an accomplished young musician and singer, and played regular gigs across the Durham Region for almost a decade. Always a bluegrass at heart, Jake truly excels both as a rhythm and flat-picking guitarist. Most notably, Jake won the Bluegrass Guitar Player of the Year (Central Canadian Bluegrass Awards) for 2018 and 2019.

Quotes

"...Nothin' Fancy maintains a high level of proficiency and professionalism that unquestionably establishes them as a force to be reckoned with in the world of bluegrass music. Indeed the future for Nothin' Fancy is boundless and filled with enormous expectations."

-Bluegrass Unlimited

“...A Unique sound that vacillates between smooth, progressive bluegrass and country-tinged Americana.”

-Cary Virgin, Bluegrass Now

“Impressive is one of the many synonyms for the word fancy. Despite their name, ‘impressive’ describes Virginia based Nothin’ Fancy to a ‘T’...

-Sing Out!

“Group members have developed a strong blend that features tight harmonies and evocative solo performances. The band’s chemistry with each other is superb. Of course it doesn’t hurt that they have a great deal of musical talent and vocals thrown in there, too.”

-Maverick

“This bluegrass band personifies the definition of "antithesis" with its name Nothin’ Fancy. It is the opposite, very fancy. Stellar vocals along with impeccable bluegrass harmonies are just the starting point. The instrumental prowess of the group members also likens itself to some of the old pros that have traveled this road before them.

When these guys play, it is everything but nothing fancy. Their name may not be indicative of their music, but I would rather a group use their vocals, instrumental skill, and songwriting abilities speak for them in lieu of their name doing all of the talking.”
